POSITION STATEMENT

Wolf Mountain is a camp to be used by groups that would characterize themselves as fundamental, Bible-believing churches/schools. During our sponsored camps, few restrictions are placed on who can attend; however, churches/schools who wish to set up a custom camp will be asked to sign the following position statement.

Laguna Chinese Baptist Church does not associate with, fellowship with, or join together with unbelievers for religious or spiritual endeavors. This includes those who do not believe in the veracity of Scriptures as the only source of absolute truth or do not believe that salvation is by grace through faith in Jesus Christ alone, apart from any additional works or second acts of grace. Furthermore, we do not subscribe to any belief that the revelation of God is incomplete or that visions, dreams, speaking in tongues, or any additional contemporary inspiration gives new revelation that would add to, amend, or in any way contradict the literal, historical, contextual interpretation of the Scriptures long established as the Canon of the Word of God.

One area of literal interpretation under cultural attack today deals with God's established roles of leadership in the home and church. Laguna Chinese Baptist Church believes that the Bible teaches that qualifications of a pastor found in 1 Timothy 3 and Titus 1 indicate clearly that the office of pastor of a local church should be filled by a man. We understand that Wolf Mountain recognizes the priesthood of the believer, the autonomy of the local church, and individual soul liberty and accountability to our Lord Jesus Christ. Nevertheless, if necessary, in the interest of not being offensive to the conscience of other believers (1 Corinthians 10:23-33), we agree in Christian love (Romans 14) to put others first by limiting our liberty so as not to be a stumblingblock (1 Corinthians 8) and thereby glorify our Lord Jesus Christ (1 Corinthians 10:31). Therefore, we agree to operate within the application guidelines of practice and behavior established by Wolf Mountain while conducting a custom camp retreat at their facility.

While the absolutes of the Scripture and the principles derived from them never change, specific practices may change as churches make new applications in a changing society. We understand that in order to deal with such applications in a way that is non-offensive for some believers Wolf Mountain has adopted some application guidelines of practice and behavior for custom camp groups.

Application Guidelines for Practice and Behavior: It is understood that these guidelines are for members of Laguna Chinese Baptist Church while at Wolf Mountain and may or may not reflect our church's beliefs or practices when not at Wolf Mountain.

- Wolf Mountain requests that every retreat or camp have at least one gospel or Bible-based message or service each full day that they are on the camp facility.
- Wolf Mountain requests that groups focus on Bible preaching and teaching, testimonies of praise to the Lord, workshops and seminars on biblically related subjects, songs of worship and praise to God above, and prayers; while refraining from any outward manifestations of sign gifts.
- Wolf Mountain requests that participants refrain from smoking, vaping, and use of tobacco or tobacco-like products, drinking alcoholic beverages, or using illegal drugs.
- Wolf Mountain requests that all campers follow the dress guideline regarding modesty and appropriateness outlined in the camper information flyer.
- Wolf Mountain requests that groups conducting their own music use sacred traditional music, Scripture songs, or praise and worship choruses whose lyrics agree with Scripture.
- Wolf Mountain requests that musical instruments used for accompaniment be limited to a piano or an acoustic guitar.
- Wolf Mountain requests that the use of media and videos be consistent with the requests above.
- Baptism and communion are ordinances of the local church and will be practiced at Wolf Mountain only if a specific local church does so under the leadership of the pastor/s of that church.

We agree to operate within the application guidelines of practice and behavior established by Wolf Mountain while conducting a custom camp retreat at their facility.
